

Arab-American Cultural Center
of Silicon Valley

3952 Twilight Drive,
Houge Park, Bldg # 2
San Jose, CA 95124
Tel (408) 717-4310

AND

Present

Arabic Music & Singing Classes

Want to learn how to play Arabic Music and/or sing Arabic songs? Bring your instrument and come learn from the best: Elias Lammam is a world renowned, multi-instrumentalist and a master instructor of classical Arabic music & singing. He teaches musicians and singers of all levels and backgrounds to play together as an Arabic music ensemble.

Performance opportunity available for interested and qualified students.

When: Sundays 5:00-6:30pm Musicians. Sundays 6:30-8:00pm Singers
(As class progresses, everyone will work together)

Duration: January 8 – February 26, 2012. Total of 8 weeks.

Where: Arab American Cultural Center of Silicon Valley
Houge Park, Building 2, 3952 Twilight Drive, San Jose 95124

Who: Youth and adults, 16 and up, all instruments and levels welcome!

Cost: $30 /class. $200 for full program. $300 for both classes (music & singing)
(Musicians: please mention instrument & level)

Elias Lammam is a master instructor, a world-renowned accordionist, and a highly respected composer. He has recorded with many well-known international artists, and performs regularly with the Georges Lammam Ensemble. He has worked as a bandleader, studio musician and composer for TV & film. Born in Lebanon, he has toured the world playing music and now resides in the San Francisco area where he teaches and performs regularly. He has taught Arabic music and theory at UC Berkeley as well as many other elite higher educational institutions throughout the world. More information on his website: www.EliasLammam.com.

To register, please email hala@haladance.com. For questions, please contact Elias at eliaslammam@hotmail.com or (510) 213-5169.

